"Hamlet" in Pictures Showing at the Bijou

Knickerbocker Film Features J.
Forbes Robertson and Miss Gertrude Elliott.

A glance at the Bijou advertisement in another column today will reveal a program to give every picture lover a thrill of pleasure. The headliner is "Hamlet," which was produced by the Knickerbocker Film Company. Sir J. Forbes Robertson and Miss Gertrude Elliott, celebrated artists from the great Drury Lane theater, London, Eng., are featured.
The entire Drury Lane original cast is included, making this one of the highest priced features ever offered to the American picture loving public. It comes in three reels.

Another important feature on today is "A Daughter of the Earth," by Klaw and Erlanger, featuring Edward Cecil, Gräichen Hartman and Allen Hale. This picture takes one right down to the realities of things.
"Hearst-Selig News No. 59," and a one-reel comedy are also shown.

Thursday as usual the Bijou will have a V. L. S. E. feature. This one,
"The Blue Ribbon Vitagraph," play, "The Hearts and the Highways," will be up to this company's usual standard.
Miss Lillian Walker, Charles Kent, J. Roger Lytton, Donald Hall, Rose

THE HOME OF THE PIPE ORGAN

Broadway actors and Miss Rosemary Treble is the special feature offering of the Orpheum theater today. This is a lavish production far surpassing anything on the speaking stage.
Tomorrow, Miss Bettie Hansen, the popular emotional star of the photoplay world, will appear in "The Fallen Idol," adapted from a famous novel.

"The House of the Lost Court" released on the Paramount program and featured at the Robinson Grand today has been most enthusiastically received by the New York press and public.

Perhaps the most striking features of this picture are the originality of the plot and the skill with which the suspense element has been introduced. When a man supposedly hung some years before is seen living in a secret apartment in his own home it is bound to result in the closest attention, and a genuine interest in the incidents which have made this strange situation possible. Such is that of the principal in the film.

The excellence of the story is accounted for by the fact that it is a dramatization of the novel of the same name by Mrs. C. N. Williamson, and the thousands of readers of this book will be much pleased to see it on the screen.

The Paramount Travelogue, which is the regular Wednesday extra offering, is proving quite a feature and adds greatly to the mid-week program.

At E. Christie and his company of Nestor players are at present working with Marie Tempest in the production of a four-reel feature production entitled "Mrs. Plum's Pudding." The story was written by James Dayton and Eddie Lyons especially to feature Marie Tempest. The remainder of the cast is comprised of Lee Morin, Eddie
